Legislative – Craig Holdren – report

Legislative Update on Gun Registration House Bill

The anti-gun crowd has pushed House Bill 1891 through the judiciary committee in the usual 14 Democrats to 12 Republicans vote. Sad days for the Democrat party indeed, as they used to be loaded with informed and critically thinking legislators. Now it seems to be all about the party agenda, Constitution and common sense be damned.

Once we know if the bill will be added to the calendar for a second consideration in the House, we will announce a call to action and try to get our members engaged in contacting legislators to oppose the bill. Right now, it is not on the calendar that we know of, but the website is not updated completely. Some allies in the House will advise us if it gets added for a vote, so till then, we sit tight.

FOAC President Jim Stoker's Testimony on SB822 & FOAC ILLEA Podcast Episode 6: Preemption (SB822)

We made the news! FOAC Institute President Jim Stoker's testimony before the PA Senate Local Government Committee on Senate Bill 822, an effort to strengthen the preemption statute in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The entire meeting went for over an hour.

Senate Bill 822 (Sen. Langerholc) and the need for it to pass into law. They discussed the current status of preemption, the failings of many of our district attorneys to enforce the law, and why this bill could change the landscape of Article I, Section 21 (2nd Amendment) battles in PA.
